2. The Information Office uses plain envelopes and the addresses of employees as return addresses when writing to Western Germany. For example, a letter addressed to Radio Berlin, Deutschlandsender, Unterweser Bezirk, Delmenhorst (L 54/W 59) bore the return address of a Mrs Inge Lippmann, 27 Georginenweg, Fehlendorf/South (N 53/V 05) who heads the variety show and film section of the Information Office.
3. Stringent security measures are maintained in the Information Office building. When entering halls and leaving offices employees are constantly required to identify themselves with special passes provided them.
4. The "Deutscher Veranstaltungsdienst" which is subordinate to the Variety Show and Film Section in the Information Office has made plans to invite artists from West-Berlin and Western Germany for performances in the Soviet Sector of Berlin. These performances are utilized as occasions for circulating petitions and adopting resolutions against remilitarization in Western Germany as well as for demanding that a peace treaty be concluded in 1951. The artists from West Berlin and Western Germany are invited to sign these resolutions. If the artists fail to appear, they are requested to make a written comment which is published if against remilitarization.
